

increase in completions

Vic Jannels, group managing director of All Types of Mortgages, a member of the Professional Mortgage Packagers Associates (PMPA), agreed that packager business volumes were higher than most would have expected amid the 'doom and gloom' forecasts surrounding the future of packagers.

He said: "New business numbers are strong. Introducers are generally satisfied and our overall expectation for the future is that it will be exciting. We have invested substantially in the freehold of a new building and we are actively seeking new staff for our business development area."